

Royal Catering celebrate the diversity of the Capital this month!

UAE homegrown company celebrates the gastronomic delights of the Emirate with February's Abu Dhabi Food Festival.

Abu Dhabi, UAE February 2015 - Abu-Dhabi based Royal Catering are showcasing their international and local specialty chefs this month in the much-anticipated Abu Dhabi Food Festival. Taking place across the Capital between February 5th and 21st, the festival will celebrate the gastronomic delights of the Emirate, as well as hold various workshops and culinary experiences for all the family.

Starting off their Food Festival journey is the Emirati Kitchen Festival from February 5th until the 7th, where Royal Catering will host a stand selling typical Emirati Food. Located on East Plaza, Corniche, from 4pm till 10pm, there will also be live demonstrations by the talented Chef Saeed Fawaz, where he will be cooking Moadam Roubyan and Khanfaroush on the Thursday evening and Sagaw during his Master Class at 4:15PM on the Friday.

The Royal Catering team will then head on the Saadiyat Beach Golf Club from February 11th till 12th from 11am to 6.15pm, with a stand showcasing the exquisite dishes on offer at the newly opened Catch. Something to whet the appetite of all the family, this will make a perfect evening out.

A fantastic way to finish off their participation in this year's festival, both Catch and Café D'Alsace will feature in Abu Dhabi Gourmet, where guests can visit the restaurants to experience a special menu showcasing the best the chefs have to offer.

From February 15th till 17th Catch will offer dinner for two for only AED758, while guests can visit Café D'Alsace from February 18th till 20th for an evening buffet of cheese, bread and paired beverages for only AED300 per person. To get even more up close and personal with the chefs, guests can also grab the opportunity to attend one of Café D'Alsace's baking classes from 3-5pm on the 19th and 20th of February for 250AED, inclusive of afternoon tea and pastries.
